

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

EXPLANATORY REMARKS.

I have been prompted to collect and publish the family records found on the following pages, principally to preserve them to such persons as may have a special interest in them at the present time, and to their descendants of future generations.

In some instances, only partial accounts of persons or families have been obtained; but, in most cases, the full name, date of birth, of marriage, and of decease, are given in detail.

Little is said of personal character, position in life, business pursuits, etc., as, in reference to a majority of persons, the necessary reliable information for such purposes could not readily be procured.

GEORGE CLARK's descendants are traced in a direct line only through his son GEORGE, his grandson GEORGE, and great-grandson HEZEKIAH. Then follows a full family record of PECK CLARK (youngest son of HEZEKIAH), his children, grandchildren, etc., and their intermarriages. Some account is given of the family of AARON CLARK (son of said HEZEKIAH) and of his son AARON CLARK, Jr.

DANIEL KELLOGG's record does little more than to show the direct line of descent through his son SAMUEL and his grandson EPHENETUS, Sr.; but gives a full record of his great-grandson JAMES KELLOGG, Sr., and his descendants.

EDWARD NASH and descendants are given only through his son JOHN, Sr., grandson JOHN, Jr., great-grandson EDWARD, and his great-great-grand-daughter LYDIA, who married JAMES KELLOGG, Sr., November 4, 1779, at Norwalk, Connecticut, where the NASH family record closes.

GEORGE CLARK AND DESCENDANTS.

The following genealogical sketches of GEORGE CLARK, the planter, and his descendants were compiled from sundry published volumes of family records and from the church records of Milford and the Probate records at New Haven, Connecticut:

1. GEORGE CLARK, the planter, with his wife Sarah and two children, emigrated from England to America in the year A. D. 1637, in company with Rev. John Davenport and his congregation (from Kent and Surrey, near London,) together with several other parties of wealth and respectability--the whole forming a considerable colony of persons, who, early in the year 1637, left England to escape persecution on account of their religious belief, and to take up their abode in the New World. They landed at Boston, in Massachusetts, where they remained about one year; but for several reasons Mr. Davenport, Rev. Mr. Prudden, and their companions, decided to leave Boston and make their permanent settlement at New Haven, Connecticut, then known by the Indian name of Quinniapiack. They sailed from Boston, March 30, 1638, and reached Quinniapiack in about two weeks. Mr. Davenport preached his first sermon there on the 18th of April, 1638.

In the year 1639, a part of Mr. Davenport's congregation, including George Clark (1), Peter Prudden, and several other persons, removed from New Haven and settled at Milford, then known by its Indian name of Wopowage, it being about ten miles westerly from New Haven. They organized a church at Milford on the 2d day of August, 1639, with Rev. Peter Prudden for their minister, and on the same day the church at New Haven was organized, with Mr. Davenport as minister.

George Clark (1) continued to reside at Milford during the remainder of his life. He was a "free planter" and a man of considerable property and influence, being much respected in the church and in the community. He was many times a Deputy or Representative from Milford to the General Court* of New Haven and Connecticut, the two Colonies being separate and distinct until their union on the 11th of May, 1665, under the name of Connecticut.

He died in August, 1690, at about eighty years of age, "leaving a good estate, as appears by his will, dated April 25, 1689," and recorded in the Probate records at New Haven.

The death of his wife Sarah occurred July 19, 1689. They had nine children, as follows:

2. SAMUEL, born in England.
3. THOMAS, born in England. He married Hannah Gilbert, of New Haven, Connecticut, May 20, 1663.
4. SARAH, born at Milford, Connecticut.

*A Legislature having judicial powers. This was the kind of government in New England during the Colonial period.

5. GEORGE, born at Milford, Connecticut.
6. JOHN, born at Milford, Connecticut.
7. ABIGAIL, born at Milford, Connecticut.
8. ELIZABETH, born at Milford, Connecticut.
9. REBECCA, born in Milford, Connecticut.
10. MARY, born in Milford, Connecticut.

GEORGE CLARK 2d, (5), the third son of George Clark (1), the planter, was born at Milford, New Haven County, Connecticut. The church records of Milford show that he was baptized on the 30th of April, 1648, making it probable that his birth occurred early in the same year. Little is known of his youth and early manhood; but the town and church records of Milford show that he was a Deacon in the church there, and that he was many times a Deputy or Representative from Milford to the General Court of Connecticut. He resided in Milford until his death, which occurred in the year 1734, at the advanced age of eighty-six years, much esteemed and respected. The day on which he died is not given, but his will, dated April 24, 1734, and recorded in the Probate records of New Haven, states that his death was expected within a few days from that time.

The name of his wife was Abigail, by whom he had four children, as follows:

11. SARAH, born at Milford, Connecticut.
12. ABIGAIL, born at Milford, Connecticut.
13. DEBORAH, born at Milford, Connecticut.
14. GEORGE, born at Milford, Connecticut.

GEORGE CLARK 3d, (14), the youngest son of George Clark 2d, (5), was born at Milford, Connecticut, in the year 1686. The day of his birth is not known; but the church records of Milford state that he was baptized September 26, 1686, making it more than probable that he was born in that year. Although it is not now known (in 1876) when his marriage took place, it appears probable that it occurred about the year 1722. His wife's name was Mary. After his marriage, he continued to reside at Milford until his death, in the year 1762, at about seventy-six years of age. It appears by his will, dated at Milford, in August, 1762, and recorded in the Probate records of New Haven, that he was suffering under a severe sickness at that time, and his death expected within a few days. Hezekiah (15) and Job (16) his two oldest sons, were executors of his estate under the will. His will contains the following item:

"I give to the church of which I am a member, and Mr. Prudden* the minister, a silver tankard, costing not less than twelve pounds (sterling), to be given by my son Job out of his portion."

He had six children, three sons and three daughters, as follows:

15. HEZEKIAH, born in Milford, Connecticut.
16. JOB, born in Milford, Connecticut.
17. DAVID, born in Milford, Connecticut.
18. MARY, born in Milford, Connecticut.
19. ABIGAIL, born in Milford, Connecticut.
20. DEBORAH, born in Milford, Connecticut.

Two of his daughters married men named Smith, and the other married a Mr. Peck.

*The records of Milford show that the full name of the aforesaid "Mr. Prudden" was Rev. Job Prudden, and that he was the first settled minister of the second church in Milford, and was the great-grandson of Rev. Peter Prudden, the first minister in that town.

HEZEKIAH CLARK (15) AND DESCENDANTS.

HEZEKIAH CLARK (15), the first son of George Clark 3d, (14), was born at Milford, Connecticut, in the year 1723. The church records of Milford show that he was baptized there September 1, 1723. In that year he entered the Revolutionary Army, where he was attacked with malignant dysentery, of which he died the same year, aged fifty-three years. James Kellogg, Sr. (527), was a practical farmer and engaged in other business from time to time. He raised a family of fourteen children, most of whom had, in their turn, large families of their own. His sons James (551), Elijah (553), Rufus (554), Edward (556), and Frederick (557), lived at home until about twenty-one years of age, with limited opportunities for acquiring an education, but, possessing remarkable endowments of mind, fitting them for business pursuits, they engaged in merchandising.

James (551), the oldest, when about twenty-five years of age, began selling dry goods and other articles of trade from a peddler's wagon to retail merchants and others, in the States of New Jersey, Central Pennsylvania, and Northern Virginia. His stock was purchased in New York and Philadelphia, mostly in the former city. He made regular trips to the retail dealers on certain routes of travel and supplied them with such articles as they needed.

After James (551) had had two or three years of successful trade, his brother Elijah (553), followed his example, and then followed Rufus (554), Edward (556), and Frederick (557), at intervals of from one to three years.

These five sons all married and removed from Northfield, Connecticut, to the several places here named, viz.: James (551), settled at Lewistown, Pennsylvania, about the year 1821; Elijah (553), at Elizabeth, New Jersey, about the year 1813; Rufus (554), at Shippensburg, Pennsylvania, in 1821; Edward (556), in New York City in 1820, and Frederick (557), at Reading, Pennsylvania, in 1821.

James Kellogg, Sr. (527), lived at Norwalk, Connecticut, from his birth, April 5, 1755, to the year 1793; he then removed to Franklin, Dutchess County, New York, and resided there and at North Salem, Dutchess County, until about the year 1802, when he removed to Northfield, Litchfield County, Connecticut, and lived there until his death, December 28, 1828, aged seventy-three years eight months and twenty-three days.
